

Phase II Replacement Sequence

The Technology Replacement Task Force (TRTF) recently worked on determining the sequence of future deployment and set the next phase of deployment, which is below. All employees are encouraged to attend the training sessions, "New Computer Basics", to learn how to back up all AC related files, folders, and favorites before the new computer arrives. Also, the media for any special software that must be loaded on the new computer must be available upon delivery, along with a copy of the software license. ITS will call the supervisors of each area to schedule the replacement. As Phase II nears completion, the TRTF will determine the sequence of deployment for Phase III.

Labs are under investigation with some labs that were coded as 2009-4 (replace with newer computer) being replaced sooner as schedule permits. ITS is in the process of identifying and selecting Lab Usage Statistics software that will run in all labs to collect usage data. This data will help guide replacement decisions as the Replacement Plan moves forward.
