KEY DISCUSSION POINTS

Continuing Business
New Business:
Web accessibility	Brenda Rossnagel gave a summary of web accessibility issues at AC that have been discussed over the past several months by the Web Accessibility Committee. Brenda opined that AC is still relying on accommodations for students rather than standards and policies build into systems as a whole. These include universal design guidelines that were developed by Web Accessibility Committee and approved by the President's Cabinet. But these guidelines have no implementation policies and procedures in place, so there is no implementation plan.
Computer labs and laptop carts	In discussion that followed Brenda's presentation, members favored cooperating with the Web Accessibility Committee and approved Brenda Rossnagel and April Sessler as liaisons with that committee.
	Heather Voran reported on her query to deans and department heads to identify who are the computer lab and laptop cart supervisors at AC. She has received some responses, but her list now is preliminary. She will report next meeting on her results.
