Nancy Brent reviewed the Spring awards. Due to the shortage of scholarships, more transportation was awarded in the spring. The Adult Students Program will probably not be able to award for the summer semester.

The annual Adult Students Program book sale is on Tuesday, March 9, and Wednesday, March 10. A sign-up sheet was passed around for the members to help with the book sale. She also asked for donations of books.

The Adult Students Program has a problem with textbooks not being returned every semester. There has been $3,500 worth of books that have not been returned for the fall semester. Holds have been placed on these students' records.

Eveline announced that there will be an apartment that will be available at the Sunshine Cottage. If anyone knows of someone who might be eligible, they should let her know as soon as possible.

Linda Purvines stated that WIA has stimulus money available for student assistance. The stimulus money cannot pay for remediation classes.

Glennnda Cook stated that she knows of assistance available through St. Paul United Methodist Church to help with eye glasses and eye exams for students.
