

Self-Aid/Buddy-Aid for Patrol Officers

Monday – Wednesday

January 25-27, 2016

8:00 a.m. – 5:00 p.m.

(24 hours of TCOLE Credit Provided)

This 3-day training course focuses on providing patrol officers with the skills and knowledge to mentally and physically survive a traumatic injury. Law enforcement officers work in hazardous conditions every day. Work-related injuries vary from twisted ankles during foot chases, to lacerations from violent physical confrontations with offenders, to serious traumatic injuries received from vehicle crashes, edged weapons, or gunshots. Emergency medical services may not always be readily available or may not have timely access to you when you are injured. Being able to identify various types of injuries and knowing how to administer emergency self-aid may keep you alive until you can receive advanced medical care. Ultimately, surviving a serious injury before help arrives may be up to you! What will you do to stay alive?

This course is instructed by four Nationally Registered Paramedics (NRP):

Paul Kodack – DOE, NNSA

Chip Schane – DOE, NNSA

John Vaught – Randall County Sheriff's Office
