Introduction to The Amarillo College Employee Handbook

The Amarillo College Employee Handbook (“Handbook”) describes the policies and procedures governing all employees of the College. The Handbook supplements information contained in The Amarillo Junior College District Board of Regents Policy Manual. The purpose of this handbook is to provide information that will help with questions and pave the way for a successful employment relationship. Not all college policies and procedures are included. Those that are have been summarized. Suggestions for additions and improvements to this handbook are welcome and may be sent to the employee’s appropriate cabinet member. The President’s Cabinet may seek additional employee input on proposed changes to the handbook, but has ultimate authority to make changes to the handbook. Where applicable, other policies and college documents are hyperlinked from this handbook to assist employees in finding the information they need quickly.

This handbook is neither a contract nor a substitute for the official Board Policy Manual. Nothing contained in the Handbook constitutes an employment contract or an offer to contract with any employee, and nothing contained in the Handbook changes the employment-at-will status of any employee, or creates any additional rights, remedies at law, or expectations of continued employment.

Utilization and proper administration of the policies and procedures listed in the Handbook are the responsibility of each supervisor of faculty, classified and administrative employees. College employees are responsible for reviewing and understanding the Handbook contents and to be attentive to communications regarding changes to the Handbook or the Board of Regents Policy Manual. These policies and procedures may change at any time; these changes shall supersede any handbook provisions that are not compatible with the change. For more information, employees may refer to the policy codes that are associated with certain handbook topics, confer with their supervisor, or call the appropriate college office.

Printed copies of the Handbook are unofficial and may not contain the most updated information. New and revised policies and procedures are generally added to the online handbook within five business days after Cabinet adoption. The policies, procedures, and other documents in the handbook supersede all previous versions of employee, staff or faculty handbooks.

Printed policies and procedures are considered uncontrolled and for reference only.

1.1 Description of the College

Effective: March 2023

Board Policy Manual Reference: AA, AB, AC

Amarillo College (AC) is a vibrant community college that typically enrolls about 9,000 students at seven campuses in three Texas Panhandle counties and has recently garnered significant national attention.

In fact, 2021 was not only a year to remember, it was quite possibly a year of transcendence for AC, which was named one of the Top 5 community colleges in the nation by the Aspen Institute and captured Aspen's prestigious Rising Star Award.

Additionally in 2021, AC received a magnanimous gift of \$15 million from author and philanthropist MacKenzie Scott; won a prestigious award for its exemplary spirit of collaboration between CEO and Board of Regents from the American Association of Community Colleges; became the sole community college to join a national alliance called REP4 that charges students with designing education's future; and was granted full membership in the National Junior College Athletic Association in light of AC's return in 2022 to intercollegiate athletics.

And looking forward, AC is already short-listed as one of 25 semifinalists for the 2023 Aspen Prize, the nation's biennial signature recognition of community college excellence.

AC began to take a foothold on the national landscape in 2015 when it adopted an innovative Culture of Caring that prioritizes student success and connects first-generation and/or academically underprepared students with social services structured to help them overcome barriers to success.

In the ensuing years, the College opened a counseling center, a legal aid clinic, a career and employment center, and a childcare center. AC also launched an Advocacy and Resource Center, which houses a food pantry and connects students with social services provided by more than 60 local nonprofits.

The College's game-changing initiatives led national community college reform leader Achieving the Dream to name AC a co-recipient of its 2019 Leah Meyer Austin Award, a significant national accolade contingent upon measurable improvements in student outcomes.

Additionally, in 2018, AC was named a "Great College to Work For" in The Chronicle of Higher Education's eleventh annual survey on the academic workplace.

AC, which enjoys unflagging community support, received a major boost in May of 2019 with passage of an $89 million bond issue. Among the many projects this enables the College to undertake are creation of an Innovation Outpost, establishment of a First Responders Academy, and centralization of Student Services.

Printed policies and procedures are considered uncontrolled and for reference only.

With a proven blend of quality and affordability that makes Texas community colleges so appealing – approximately half of the students enrolled in higher education in Texas attend a community college – AC provides students with a solid academic foundation, whether they are looking to immediately enter the workforce or proceed to a university.

Revised: June 2023

Board Policy Manual Reference: DAA, DIAA, DIAB

General Information

In its efforts to promote nondiscrimination and as required by law, Amarillo College does not discriminate against any employee or applicant for employment because of race, color, religion, sex (including pregnancy, sexual orientation, or gender identity), national origin, age, disability, military status, genetic information, or on any other basis prohibited by law. Additionally, the college does not discriminate against an employee or applicant who acts to oppose such discrimination or participates in the investigation of a complaint related to a discriminatory employment practice. Employment decisions will be made on the basis of each applicant's job qualifications, experience, and abilities.

In accordance with Title IX and 34 C.F.R. part 106, the college does not discriminate on the basis of sex and is prohibited from discriminating on the basis of sex in its educational programs or activities. Applicants who pose a direct threat to the health, safety and well-being of themselves or others in the workplace when the threat cannot be eliminated by reasonable accommodation will not be hired.

Amarillo College will reasonably accommodate qualified individuals with a disability so that they can perform the essential functions of a job unless doing so causes a direct threat to these individuals or others in the workplace and the threat cannot be eliminated by reasonable accommodation or if the accommodation creates an undue hardship to Amarillo College. Contact Human Resources with any questions or requests for accommodation.

All employees are required to comply with the college's safety standards. Current employees who pose a direct threat to the health or safety of themselves or other individuals in the workplace may be placed on leave until an organizational decision has been made in regard to the employee's immediate employment situation.

2.15 Employees Dating

Effective: March 2023

General Information

Amarillo College strongly believes that a work environment where employees maintain clear boundaries between employee personal and business interactions is necessary for effective business operations. Although this policy does not prevent the development of friendships or romantic relationships between coworkers, it does establish boundaries as to how relationships are conducted during working hours and within the working environment.

Individuals in supervisory or managerial roles, and those with authority over others' terms and conditions of employment, are subject to more stringent requirements under this policy due to their status as role models, their access to sensitive information, and their ability to affect the employment of individuals in subordinate positions.

This policy does not preclude or interfere with the rights of employees protected by the National Labor Relations Act or any other applicable statute concerning the employment relationship.

Policy

1. During working time and in working areas, employees are expected to conduct themselves in an appropriate workplace manner that does not interfere with others or with overall productivity.
2. During nonworking time, such as lunches, breaks, and before and after work periods, employees engaging in personal exchanges in nonwork areas should observe an appropriate workplace manner to avoid offending other workers or putting others in an uncomfortable position.
3. Employees are strictly prohibited from engaging in physical contact that would in any way be deemed inappropriate in the workplace by a reasonable person while anywhere on college premises, whether during working hours or not.
4. Employees who allow personal relationships with coworkers to adversely affect the work environment will be subject to Amarillo College's corrective action policy, including counseling for minor problems. Failure to change behavior and maintain expected work responsibilities is viewed as a serious disciplinary matter.
5. Employee off-duty conduct is generally regarded as private, as long as such conduct does not create problems within the workplace. An exception to this principle, however, is romantic or sexual relationships between supervisors and subordinates.
6. Any supervisor, manager, executive or other college official in a sensitive or influential position with Amarillo College must disclose the existence of a romantic or sexual relationship with another coworker. Disclosure may be made to the individual's immediate supervisor or the Vice President of Human Resources. Amarillo College will review the circumstances to determine whether any conflict of interest exists.
7. When a conflict of interest or potential risk is identified due to a college official's relationship with a coworker, Amarillo College will work with the parties involved to consider options for resolving the problem. The initial solution may be to make sure the parties no longer work together on matters where one is able to influence the other or act for the other. Matters such as hiring, firing, promotions, performance management, compensation decisions and financial transactions are examples of situations that may require reallocation of duties to avoid any actual or perceived reward or disadvantage. In some cases, other measures may be necessary, such as transfer of one or both parties to other positions or departments. If one or both parties refuse to accept a reasonable solution, such refusal will be deemed a voluntary resignation.

8. Failure to cooperate with Amarillo College to resolve a conflict or problem caused by a romantic or sexual relationship between coworkers or among managers, supervisors or others in positions of authority in a mutually agreeable fashion may be deemed insubordination and result in corrective action or termination.
9. The provisions of this procedure apply regardless of the sexual orientation of the parties involved.
10. Where doubts exist as to the specific meaning of the terms used above, employees should make judgments based on the overall spirit and intent of this procedure.

- Open and constructive conversations are encouraged between the employee and the evaluator; however, the ratings and overall score given by the evaluator is the official performance rating recorded for the employee personnel file and is the score used in the event of merit increase opportunities that are tied to performance.

Part-time/Adjunct Faculty:

- The performance of each adjunct faculty will be evaluated annually based upon student comments, student performance, and classroom performance as determined by the Department Chair, along with any additional comments by a Dean of Campus Operations (at the Hereford or Moore County campus) if applicable.
- Adjunct faculty need to be evaluated once a calendar year. If an adjunct taught in the previous spring and fall of the calendar year, the supervisor needs to submit the performance review only for one semester. Supervisors must use the DAIR Academic Affairs dashboard (<https://dair.actx.edu>) for course success data. Every section of the review must be completed including classroom observation.
- All completed reviews must be submitted to the Office of Institutional Effectiveness according to the timeline established by the Executive Director of Institutional Effectives and Accreditation.

Printed policies and procedures are considered uncontrolled and for reference only.

Ongoing Check-in Conversations

All employees and supervisors should engage in regular check-in conversations throughout the year, at least monthly. The check-in conversation form is available to employees and supervisors through AC Connect.

Communication and Compliance

- The Human Resources department will determine specific dates for the annual employee performance evaluation periods each year.
- Communication about timelines, deadlines, available training and instructions will be through employees' @actx.edu email and HR Digest digital newsletters.
- Employees and evaluators are expected to comply with deadlines for completion of the evaluation steps. Failure to meet deadlines may result in corrective action.

2.18 Flexible and Alternate Work Arrangements for Staff Employees

Effective: March 2023

Revised: February 2024

Amarillo College recognizes the value of flexible and alternate work options and will consider flexible work arrangements that allow staff to balance work and personal commitments while ensuring the operational and business needs of the College are met. Staff are not entitled to or guaranteed the opportunity to use a flexible or alternate work option, even if their job position is designated as eligible. All flexible or alternate work options will comply with applicable federal and state laws and all College regulations, rules, policies and practices. Supervisors maintain the final authority and responsibility to manage flexible and alternate work arrangements within their work units, in compliance with College guidelines.

Compressed Workweek

A compressed workweek involves working the equivalent of a full-time week in fewer than five (5) days. Compressed workweeks are most appropriate in situations in which staff do not have to keep pace with incoming work or walk-in customers daily, or where there are several staff members that perform the same job.

The most common compressed workweek model is four 10-hour days per week, but departments may implement other schedules as appropriate for their business unit needs.

Leave and Pay Issues Specific to Compressed Work Week (4/40):

- Employees on compressed work week schedule who are unable to work due to illness must use sick leave in accordance with College policy, for the number of hours the employee was scheduled to work (i.e. 10) on the day(s) missed.
- Employees on compressed work week schedule who wish to use vacation leave must request time off in accordance with College and departmental policy. Employees will be charged for vacation time equal to the number of hours the employee was scheduled to work (i.e 10) on the day(s) missed.
- Non-exempt employees are eligible for a maximum of eight (8) hours of holiday pay per holiday. If the holiday falls on a weekday the employee is not normally scheduled to work, the employee will earn 8 hours of holiday pay on the holiday. The employee may adjust his/her work time for the remaining days of the week to achieve forty (40) hours. If the holiday falls on an employee's normally scheduled work day, the employee earns eight (8) hours of holiday pay for the holiday. The employee may work additional hours sometime during the week or may use vacation time for the additional hours needed to achieve forty (40) hours for the week.
- Exempt employees who are not normally scheduled to work on the day on which a holiday falls should not take another day off that week unless he or she uses vacation time. If the holiday falls on the exempt employee's normal scheduled day, he or she will have the holiday off in addition to his or her normal scheduled day off. See the AC Flexible and Alternate Work Arrangements Frequently Asked Questions for more information.

Note: This procedure may not be applicable for individual employees in certain student-facing service departments, which due to the nature of the services they offer, will require variations of compressed workweeks or flexible work in order to provide services on evenings and weekends.

Printed policies and procedures are considered uncontrolled and for reference only.

HOW TO REQUEST COMPRESSED WORKWEEK:

Supervisors and department heads retain the right to determine whether compressed workweeks will be an option in their departments. Full-time employees interested in a compressed workweek should discuss the request with their supervisor and complete a Request form. The supervisor will assess the request along with the requests of other employees in the department to determine the feasibility. The manager reserves the right to end a compressed workweek arrangement in the event of the employee's performance, attendance or conduct issues, or other staffing issues which adversely affect the operations of the department.

Additionally, certain student-facing or other departments, due to the nature of the services they offer, will require employees to work variations of compressed workweeks or flexible work in order to provide services on evenings and weekends.

Flextime

A flextime work schedule allows staff to adjust their arrival and departure times, subject to manager approval and the operational/business needs of the department. There is no formal request form for flextime. These discussions and agreements are made between the manager and the employee. The manager is responsible for fairly and effectively managing permission to work in flextime arrangements among employees.

Types of flextime could include:

Start/Stop Time Flex: Allowing staff to alter, within limits set by the department head, their daily starting and ending hours without incurring tardiness or attendance instances. Examples include variable arrival times such as 7:00 a.m. through 9:00 a.m. Staff may be required to be at work during defined "core" business hours during the day and hourly employees must work their scheduled number of hours each day (i.e. 8 hours for full-time employees). Flextime must meet department operational/business needs.

Days Flex: Allowing staff to work extra on one day in order to account for a shorter day worked in the same week. This type of flextime must occur in the same workweek to comply with FLSA regulations.

Flextime may not be feasible for some departments and job positions; the college retains the right to approve or deny flextime requests.

Hybrid/Telework

A hybrid/remote/telework arrangement allows staff to work at an alternate location one or more days per week and many employees find it enhances their productivity and work/life balance. Before embarking on a telework arrangement, the employee and supervisor should go through the job eligibility and employee eligibility exercises shown below. Many jobs are simply not conducive to telework because the job itself is location-based (i.e. groundskeeper, receptionist, store clerk). Telework is not a substitute for regular childcare or other dependent care. Teleworkers are required to maintain regular childcare, adult care or similar personal arrangements to permit concentration on work assignments during agreed upon work hours. Decreases in productivity or instances of behaviors that detract value from the College may result in the loss of teleworking status and/or may result in corrective action. Staff approved for teleworking may be required to be available to report to campus on short notice if necessary for business operations. Telework should not be used in lieu of sick leave when an employee is ill and should be taking time off work to recuperate. Employees and supervisors should utilize good judgment and common sense in determining whether to utilize sick leave or telework.

Types of telework:

- a. Regular Telework: The employee regularly works from another location. Regular telework can be defined as having a set schedule (i.e. Tuesday through Friday remote, Monday on-site) or it can be defined as regularly working remotely but not on a set schedule (i.e. once or twice every couple of weeks). Regular teleworkers should be scheduled to work at the main worksite at least one day per workweek.
- b. Temporary Telework: The employee works from another location for a predetermined period of time, to accommodate working on a special project or for another personal reason. Temporary telework is not expected to continue indefinitely.
- c. College-Designated Emergency Telework: Emergency situation where the College senior leadership determines the need and scope of telework (i.e. pandemic, weather emergency).

Printed policies and procedures are considered uncontrolled and for reference only.

Job Eligibility for Telework

Department heads determine a job's suitability for flexible and alternate work arrangements by using a combination of the "Suitability Matrix," direct observations of departmental operations, feedback from the appropriate President's Cabinet member, and consultation with Human Resources. The list of flexible/alternate-suitable positions is subject to change at the College's discretion.

	Position Suitability Matrix: Score each element and calculate the average
	Scoring legend: 5=Always 4=Usually 3=Sometimes 2=Seldom 1=Never Successful hybrid/remote work positions tend to be positions that:
1	Have clearly defined, measurable tasks and productivity may be effectively measured with limited supervisor observation
2	Are information-intensive (analytical, evaluative, auditing, research, design, planning)
3	Have tasks that are portable and can be performed remotely or outside of normal business hours
4	Include administrative tasks (data entry, state and federal reporting, preparation of academic resources and training documents)
5	Include IT related tasks (computer programming, software development, web design and development, troubleshooting)
6	Can be accomplished without frequent access to material that cannot be electronically shared
7	Can be accomplished without continuously being available for face-to-face, location-based contact (i.e. greeting visitors, providing retail services, answering phones, maintaining physical spaces)
8	Can control when and where interactions with customers and colleagues take place (i.e. tend to be scheduled or aren't location- or walk-in based)
9	Maintain exceptional service delivery to internal and external customers whether on location or remote
10	Have minimal requirement for special equipment only available at the worksite

Employee Eligibility for Telework

Full-time exempt and non-exempt staff (1.0 FTE) are eligible to be considered for flexible or alternate work arrangements if they are in a college job description designated as suitable for flexible work. Part-time positions may be considered on a case-by-case basis. Staff must have a satisfactory performance record, including attendance, punctuality, conduct and productivity. The College reserves the right to determine whether an employee will be granted permission for new or continuing flexible/alternate work arrangements. The supervisor reserves the right to end the arrangement in the event of the employee's performance, attendance or conduct issues, or other staffing issues which adversely affect the operations of the department.

Employee Suitability Matrix: Score each element and calculate the average
	Scoring legend: 5=Always 4=Usually 3=Sometimes 2=Seldom 1=Never Successful hybrid/remote workers tend to be someone who:
1	Understands the job and can deliver outcomes based upon defined goals and performance measures
2	Understands AC's culture and is knowledgeable about policies and procedures
3	Has the training and can comfortably use technology needed to do the work
4	Has effective written and verbal communication skills and keeps manager and colleagues informed about his/her work
5	Works well in an environment with little structure and manages duties between days on campus and alternate work locations
6	Is socially self-sufficient and doesn't need constant reinforcement to conduct work effectively
7	Has earned the trust of colleagues, managers and customers
8	Is well-organized and has good time-management skills
9	Relies on electronic data tools so that physical business documents rarely need to be transported between worksite and alternate work locations
10	Maintains a suitable alternate workspace that is free of distractions and conducive to productivity; maintains reliable internet connection and meets the Information Technology Services' requirements for hardware, security, and connectivity

Printed policies and procedures are considered uncontrolled and for reference only.

HOW TO REQUEST TELEWORK

Supervisors and department heads retain the right to determine whether telework will be an option for anyone in their departments. Employees interested in telework should:

1. Discuss the request with their supervisor for initial approval. The supervisor will evaluate the request along with the requests of other employees in the department to determine feasibility.
2. Complete the Compressed Workweek/Telework Request form.
3. Complete the document, "Information Technology Requirements for Teleworking."

Note: Due to limited quantities of remote desktop licenses and other telework tools, Information Technology Services holds the final authority for approving the distribution of these tools on a case-by-case basis. ITS may remove an employee's remote technology license access after a period of inactivity by the employee.

A Note about Faculty

The work of the faculty is unique to the mission of the College and as a result work flexibility is necessary in their roles. While faculty are not directly covered in the scope of this policy and procedure, Chairs and Deans have the discretion to use the guidelines and resources to assist in supporting the academic endeavors of the faculty by setting forth appropriate expectations for faculty members. As with staff employees, supervisors of faculty members maintain the final authority and responsibility to manage work arrangements and expectations of faculty members with consistency, fairness and consideration for the best interest of the College.

Fully Remote Positions/Teleworkers Residing Outside of Texas

In very limited circumstances the College may approve fully remote working arrangements for certain hard-to-fill or specialized positions where sourcing the appropriate skill sets, knowledge or experience requires hiring employees who reside outside the immediate local area. Hiring fully remote employees from states other than Texas results in additional expense to the college in the form of payroll taxes, fees, special filings and other administrative tasks related to hiring and maintaining an out-of-state remote employee. HR and the Payroll Department monitor the environment of state taxation and fees and will maintain a list of states from which the College will not hire employees.

Posting a Remote Position

Prior to requesting a position posting, the hiring manager must discuss with their upline leadership team including the appropriate AVP or VP, whether the job posting and screening of applicants should allow for consideration of applicants who will not relocate to the region and who wish to be fully remote. Managers who hire or oversee an employee for whom they wish to allow fully remote work must complete a Fully Remote Work Variance form and route to their appropriate Cabinet member. The President's Cabinet must approve a fully remote work arrangement prior to an applicant receiving an employment offer.

Information Technology Requirements for Teleworking

Amarillo College does not issue technology equipment for teleworkers. Teleworkers should expect to outfit and furnish their own remote workspace, and must complete the ITS Teleworking Requirements Agreement prior to beginning telework. If an employee was previously issued college technology equipment for work use away from campus (i.e. laptop, tablet), they may continue to use that equipment but must still complete the ITS agreement for teleworking under this program.

Printed policies and procedures are considered uncontrolled and for reference only.

The Role of Supervisors

Supervisors play a significant role in the success of flexible work arrangements, and are responsible for the consistent and fair application of this program. The College retains the right to change, amend or end any flexible or alternate work arrangement with any employee at any time.

Effective: March 2023

Board Policy Manual Reference: DBD, DBF

General Information

Amarillo College recognizes that some employees may need or want to hold additional jobs outside their employment with the College. Employees of Amarillo College are permitted to engage in outside work or hold other jobs, subject to certain restrictions based on reasonable business concerns. Staff and faculty with a full-time employment status at Amarillo College must consider Amarillo College their primary employer, with all other employers or work-related activities considered secondary.

Procedures

Amarillo College applies this procedure consistently and without discrimination to all employees, and in compliance with all applicable employment and labor laws and regulations. The following rules for outside employment apply to all employees notifying their supervisors or managers of their intent to engage in outside employment:

- Full-time employees of Amarillo College must provide to their supervisor timely notification of any outside employment.
- Work-related activities and conduct away from Amarillo College must not compete with, conflict with or compromise the college's interests or adversely affect job performance and the ability to fulfill all responsibilities to Amarillo College. Employees are prohibited from the unauthorized use of any college tools or equipment and the unauthorized use or application of any college confidential information. In addition, employees may not solicit or conduct any outside business during work time for Amarillo College.
- Amarillo College employees must carefully consider the demands that additional work activity will create before accepting outside employment. Outside employment will not be considered an excuse for poor job performance, absenteeism, tardiness, leaving early, refusal to travel, or refusal to work overtime or different hours. If outside work activity causes or contributes to job-related problems at Amarillo College, the employee will be asked to discontinue the outside employment, and the employee may be subject to the normal corrective action procedures for dealing with the resulting job-related problem(s).
- Employees may not use Amarillo College paid sick leave to perform work for another employer.
- If an employee's outside employment presents a conflict of interest with Amarillo College, as defined in Board policy DBD, or if such outside employment has any potential for negative impact on Amarillo College, the employee will be asked to terminate the outside employment.
- Fraudulent use of college sick leave or an employee's refusal to comply with Amarillo College's reasonable request to terminate outside employment may result in immediate termination of employment with Amarillo College.

2.20 Pregnant Workers Fairness Act

Effective: June 27, 2023

The Pregnant Workers Fairness Act (PWFA) provides consideration of accommodations to employees who have known limitations related to pregnancy, childbirth, or related medical conditions. An employee seeking a PWFA accommodation should contact Tammy Coats, Director of Human Resources, 806-371-5042 to begin the interactive process.

3.1 Compensation Plan

Approved by the Board February 2023

Reviewed/Revised by the President's Cabinet: July 2024

Reviewed/Revised by the Board: August 2024

Board Policy Manual Reference: DE, DEA

General Information

Amarillo College's compensation plan seeks to support the organization's goal to attract and retain high-performing and highly-competent talent to support the college's mission. The college strives to pay equitable and market competitive compensation for all employees within budget constraints. The Human Resources department administers the classification and pay system for the college.

Using a market-based approach, AC seeks to match/lag the market when comparing average incumbent pay to the comparable market. The "comparable market" is defined as community colleges in Texas and surrounding states, as well as some ISDs. In a match/lag approach, the goal is for overall incumbent base pay to reflect between 90% to 100% to the market median, with an individual employee's "journey to market" expected to take around ten to twelve years of experience in the workforce. Employees new to a position should expect to be placed at around 85%-90% to the market median, unless HR receives objective evidence of extensive experience and qualifications to justify a higher placement.

Changes to an employee's base compensation rate are generally limited to annual raises approved by the President's Cabinet, or adjustments made as a result of market analysis of benchmark and market-sensitive positions conducted by HR. Job audits for specific positions may be requested with the approval of the appropriate President's Cabinet member as noted below. HR will conduct market analyses of benchmark and market-sensitive job positions on a rotating basis and will make recommendations for pay grade changes and/or incumbent pay changes as market conditions and budget constraints allow. To the extent possible, the effective date of changes should be limited to the beginning of a fiscal year.

All college positions are classified as exempt or non-exempt according to the U.S. Department of Labor (DOL) and the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA). Faculty, academic administrators and some professional employees are generally classified as "exempt." They are not entitled to overtime compensation. In order for a position to be classified as exempt, it must meet all of the duties and salary requirements imposed by the DOL/FLSA. Most employees are classified as "non-exempt," are paid an hourly wage and receive overtime pay for each hour worked beyond 40 in a workweek (see 3.2 Work Schedules, Timekeeping and Paychecks).

Full-time faculty who teach courses in addition to a regular course load may be paid a stipend in addition to their salary (see "Part-time/Overload Faculty Pay System" below).

Full-time faculty hired into industry-specific or hard-to-fill positions may be paid an industry stipend in addition to their 9-month base salary placement, subject to approval by the VPAA.

Additional incentive payments for meritorious performance, retention, employment referrals, or other reasons may be authorized during the fiscal year by the President's Cabinet.

Printed policies, regulations, and procedures are considered uncontrolled. Always consult www.actx.edu/hr for the official college policies, regulations, and procedures.

Job Classification for Staff Positions

Each Classified and Administrative job position is analyzed, classified and placed in a pay range based on:

Job Information: Job descriptions on file with Human Resources, along with job information collected from area supervisors provide the basic information on each job, including job duties, scope of responsibility and required knowledge and skills. To maintain accurate classification descriptions, supervisors should review job descriptions regularly and should notify Human Resources if the content of a position changes significantly.

Internal Comparisons: The College uses internal comparisons to internally analyze jobs and determine relative value.

Market Analysis: The market analysis process includes data collection from various external sources such as salary surveys and prevailing market wage reports. In order to attract and retain qualified individuals for employment, Human Resources may adjust the pay range placement for a position based on information obtained.

Staff Pay System

The Pay System for Classified and Administrative staff members includes a Salary Structure, Salary Range Adjustment, and Individual Pay Determination practices.

Salary Structure: The Pay Ranges table helps ensure equitable pay levels among classified and administrative job positions. Each pay grade in the structure has a pay range which specifies the minimum, midpoint and maximum of the range allowable for all positions assigned to that pay grade.

Salary/Range Adjustment: As relevant labor market rates fluctuate in response to supply and demand of labor and other economic factors, pay ranges may be adjusted with the appropriate budgetary approval. The College may review its pay ranges and make necessary market adjustments or may move positions from one pay grade to another. The College may then choose to provide corresponding pay adjustments to individual employees, based upon satisfactory job performance and current placement within the pay range.

Individual Pay: The relative pay of an employee within a pay grade/range should reflect a general equity based on the employee's work experience and education (reflecting the skills that the individual brings to the job) and job performance as appropriate. Human Resources will utilize these criteria when setting pay rates for newly hired or transferred employees, as well as when making recommendations based on a position pay range change due to market analysis results.

An employee who applies and is selected for another position in the college which is assigned to the same pay grade as the employee's prior position will be considered to be making a lateral position move and is not eligible for a pay increase. An employee who applies for and is selected for another position in the college which is in a lower pay grade than the employee's prior position will be subject to a decrease in pay if the criteria for individual pay placement warrant such.

All staff positions are assigned a pay grade according to the most recent market analysis/internal equity analysis conducted by the compensation team. Hard-to-fill and market-sensitive positions are frequently reviewed for proper market placement, at least every other year. Other positions are reviewed on a rotating basis.

Printed policies, regulations, and procedures are considered uncontrolled. Always consult www.actx.edu/hr for the official college policies, regulations, and procedures.

Staff Position Audit Requests

Department heads may request position audits for positions and/or staff members within their unit(s) when they believe the responsibilities and duties of the position have significantly changed or the market demand for the position has changed in a way that results in potential employee retention or equity issues. Requests must be submitted to the Director of HR by the appropriate President's Cabinet member between November 1 and January 31 of the fiscal year, and Human Resources will provide a report and recommendations prior to budget approval deadlines for the following fiscal year.

Staff Pay Ranges

The college's compensation and salary schedules and plans are located on the Human Resources Compensation and Benefits website.

New Positions

Department heads wishing to create a new position should discuss the request and provide the rationale for adding the position with their Cabinet member, and then contact the Human Resources department. A complete listing of all job duties, knowledge, skills, abilities, and education requirements must be provided so that HR may analyze the job and assign it to the appropriate pay grade prior to posting.

Full-Time Faculty Pay System

The Pay System for full-time faculty members includes a Salary Structure, Salary/Range Adjustment, and Individual Pay Increase practices.

Salary Structure: The Faculty Salary Schedule table provides a structured method of placing new full-time faculty base compensation according to standard criteria such as highest level of education achieved and years of teaching and industry experience. The college will analyze the candidate's academic and work record to determine placement on the faculty salary schedule, in accordance with 9.2 Faculty Salary Placement Criteria. All faculty base salaries are stated as a nine-month salary. See Additional Months Faculty Pay System below for information about 10-, 11- and 12-month assignments.

Salary/Range Adjustment: The college may adjust faculty salary placement schedules in response to relevant labor market rate fluctuations and other economic factors, with the appropriate budgetary approval.

Individual Step Increases: In recognition of continuing service, active full-time faculty are eligible for an annual standard "Step" increase of $500, usually effective in January, subject to funds availability. The step increase will be applied to the base 9-month salary prior to any percentage increase being applied by either an across-the-board or merit raise for the fiscal year.

Printed policies, regulations, and procedures are considered uncontrolled. Always consult www.actx.edu/hr for the official college policies, regulations, and procedures.

Part-time/Overload Faculty Pay System

Part-time (adjunct) faculty are paid by the load hour for the classes they teach. Full-time faculty who agree to teach classes above the normal full-time load are paid by the load hour for additional courses taught. The faculty member's highest level of education determines the appropriate load hour payment rate:

Part-time/Overload Pay Rates (per load hour)
Associate's	Bachelor's	Master's	Doctorate
$650	$700	$750	$800

The departments of HR, Payroll and Academic Affairs collaborate to schedule payment dates for part-time/overload classes taught during the Fall, Spring and Summer semesters. The payment schedule is posted as early as possible on the HR/Payroll website.

Part-time faculty are limited on the number of load hours they are permitted to teach each academic year, in order to maintain their exclusion from benefits-eligibility. Full-time faculty teaching overload are limited on the number of overload hours they are permitted to teach each semester, in order to maintain high levels of excellence in outcomes and to maintain reasonable work-life balance for the faculty member.

Additional Months Faculty Pay System

Faculty are placed at time of hire into a base 9-month salary. Faculty members may be assigned to 10- 11- or 12-month assignments depending on the nature of their department programs and business need for such. Faculty with additional months' assignment will be compensated using the following formulas:

Assignment Length	Annual Additional Months' Stipend
10- month	9-month base x 0.111111
11-month	9-month base x 0.222222
12-month	9-month base x 0.333333

The annual stipend for additional months is divided equally over 12 or 26 pay periods according to the faculty member's selected payroll cycle, and is included on normal paychecks.

Printed policies, regulations, and procedures are considered uncontrolled. Always consult www.actx.edu/hr for the official college policies, regulations, and procedures.

Summer Faculty Pay System

Full-time faculty are encouraged to teach courses in the summer to assist our students with completion. No faculty member may teach more than 12 hours across all summer sessions. Low enrolled sections for the summer will result in prorated summer pay for faculty. Refer to the Academic Affairs Manual for more information.

Faculty Assignment Status	Summer Load Expectation Included in Assignment	Load Hour Rate: 1/30th of 9-month base	Paid at Overload Rate
9-month	n/a	Up to 12 instructional load hours	n/a
10-month	First 3 instructional load hours	4 up to 9 instructional load hours	10 up to 12 instructional load hours
11-month	First 6 instructional load hours	n/a	7 up to 12 instructional load hours
12-month	12 hours	n/a	n/a

Academic Leadership Faculty Pay System

Full-time faculty members will receive additional compensation for performing leadership roles such as faculty coordinator, department chair, program coordinator or director, clinical simulation coordinator, or others as approved by the VPAA. Leadership stipends are normally divided over 12 or 26 pay periods according to the faculty member's selected payroll cycle, and are included on normal paychecks. Specific job duty expectations and compensation calculations for academic leadership roles are found in the Academic Affairs Manual.

Student Positions

Compensation for student worker positions, including Federal Work Study, Institutional student workers, and experiential learning positions (i.e. earn and learn, internships) is not covered by this compensation plan and is managed separately by the Human Resources department and the department of Career and Employment Services. See also Employee Handbook item 2.10 Classifications of Staff, Status of Employment.

Printed policies, regulations, and procedures are considered uncontrolled. Always consult www.actx.edu/hr for the official college policies, regulations, and procedures.

3.2 Work Schedules, Timekeeping and Paychecks

Effective: March 2023

Revised: April 2024

Board Policy Manual Reference: DEA, DJ

Work Schedules

The normal work assignment for full-time employees is forty (40) hours per week. Part-time employees will be scheduled to meet the requirements of the activity to which they are assigned, but no more than nineteen (19) hours per week. Irregular work shifts may be scheduled in order to accomplish assigned duties. The supervisor may require overtime work of employees in order to accomplish assigned duties.

Work Week

The work week begins at 12:01 a.m. on Saturday and ends at midnight the following Friday.

Rest Periods

A paid fifteen (15) minute rest period may be allowed for each four (4) hours worked. The supervisor is responsible for scheduling and overseeing rest period usage. Rest periods are not guaranteed, are subject to departmental work load, and may be denied if they would adversely impact departmental work flow. Rest periods are not cumulative and cannot be used to cover late arrival to work or early departure.

Meal Break

Full-time employees are encouraged to take a meal break to rest and refresh during their workday. A meal break is normally one (1) hour in length and is unpaid. Meal breaks are not cumulative and may not be used to cover tardiness or early departures. During a meal break, a non-exempt employee must be completely relieved of his or her duties. Supervisors are responsible for monitoring employee usage of meal breaks.

Overtime

The basic workload of full-time non-exempt employees is forty (40) hours per week. When overtime is required, all hours worked in excess of forty (40) hours shall be paid at a rate of one and one-half times the employee's regular hourly pay rate. Overtime worked by non-exempt employees will be kept to a minimum consistent with requirements of efficient and effective operation of the department, and requires prior supervisory approval. Failure to obtain prior approval may result in corrective action. Blanket overtime authority may be issued to cover overtime requirements in departments with weekend, night, and emergency responsibilities. Non-exempt employees and supervisors are responsible for making sure that ALL hours worked are reflected on the employee's bi-weekly time record.

Holiday Pay

Employees who are required to work holidays shall be credited with their normal holiday pay plus the hours worked on the holiday at their normal rate of pay. For purposes of overtime calculations, official college holidays are the only leave considered to be hours worked. Refer to 5.4 Official College Holidays for specific holidays recognized by the college.

Printed policies and procedures are considered uncontrolled and for reference only.

Time Records

Hourly-paid employees are expected to complete their time records in a timely manner, ideally each day, but at least weekly. Supervisors are expected to approve their employees' time records in a timely manner, ideally each week. At the end of the two-week pay period, employees have until 5:00pm on Friday to submit their time sheet for supervisor approval. Supervisors have until 11:59pm on that same Friday to submit their approval.

Payday

Biweekly Payroll

Paychecks for full-time and part-time employees will be deposited into employees' bank accounts biweekly, every other Friday, and will cover the two-week pay period ended on the Friday prior.

Monthly Payroll

Paychecks for full-time, salaried employees who opted for monthly payroll will be deposited into employees' bank accounts monthly, on the fourth (4th) day of the month. If the 4th day of the month falls on a weekend or official college holiday, funds will be deposited on the last business day prior to the 4th of the month. The paycheck will cover the prior month pay period.

Adjunct Faculty / Overload Pay / Special Stipend Pay

Part-time (adjunct) faculty and overload payments for full-time faculty teaching additional load are dispersed across several pay dates each semester. Special stipends and other payments will be scheduled to pay on a regularly scheduled payroll date. A biweekly and monthly payroll calendar for the current calendar year are available here. The adjunct/overload payment schedule for each semester is available here.

Direct Deposit of Paychecks

All employees must designate a primary bank account into which all wages and salary are deposited. All wages, salaries and stipends are paid via direct deposit. Employees may specify additional bank accounts to distribute portions of their salary each pay period. The same distribution allocation will apply to all wages earned in all positions held, and to all stipends, special payments, and bonuses. All eligible College employees are required to participate in a retirement program.

Part-time staff and faculty (working no more than 19 hours a week) are required to participate in the Amarillo College 457 Retirement Program. See 4.3 Retirement Programs for additional information.

Employees enrolled as students are not eligible for retirement programs based on their student employment.

Persons employed in benefits-eligible classified and professional staff positions are required to participate in the Teacher Retirement System of Texas (TRS). Persons employed in full-time administrative and faculty positions may be eligible for participation in the Optional Retirement Program (ORP) in lieu of participation in TRS. Both programs are authorized and governed by legislation of the state of Texas and appropriate administrative rules and procedures established by the governing bodies.

Failure to elect the ORP during the 90-day election period shall be a default election into TRS.

TRS is the default plan for all ORP-eligible employees until they complete the revocation and choose an ORP provider. The contributions made during the 90-day decision period or for an employee transition from TRS, have options available for the account balance. Employees will need to complete and return to Amarillo College human resources a TRS28 form and select the option of refund, direct rollover, or no refund. The election may never be revoked. Therefore, new employees are urged to make this decision carefully.

The Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board (THECB) provides a thorough comparison of TRS and ORP in their “An Overview of TRS and ORP” document.

Those electing ORP will need to complete the ORP election packet provided by Human Resources and select an ORP partner from the approved list, see the AC employee benefits webpage. Once both have been completed, the employee will work with Human Resources to finalize the process.

5.1 Vacation Leave

Effective: March 2023

Revised: January 2024

Board Policy Manual Reference: DEC

Eligibility

Full-time employees in positions requiring nine (9) or more months of service per year, except those full-time employees whose appointment is based on faculty duty days, earn vacation leave in proportion to the hours they are assigned to work.

Waiting Period

New full-time classified employees must complete a waiting period of ninety (90) days before becoming eligible to use accrued vacation leave. New administrative employees may use vacation leave immediately upon accrual.

Accrual and Carryover

Years of Service	Biweekly Accrual	Monthly Accrual	Annual Accrual	Maximum Balance	Maximum Carryover/Maximum Paid at Termination of Employment
Less than 5 years	3.70 hours	8 hours	96 hours	160 hours	160 hours
5 to less than 10 years	4.62 hours	10 hours	120 hours	200 hours	200 hours
10 years and above	5.54 hours	12 hours	144 hours	240 hours	240 hours

Note: A faculty member or part-time employee transferring to a full-time staff position will begin accruing vacation leave at the zero (0) year level.

Requesting/Reporting Vacation Leave

Employees will submit their requests for vacation leave in the AC Connect Self-Service section, under “Employee Overview > Leave > Request Leave.” Supervisors will be notified of the new request and should promptly accept or reject the request for vacation leave within the AC Connect Self-Service section. Once this is completed, the employee will receive an emailed confirmation with details of the approval or rejection. Any leaves outside of sick or vacation (Leave with pay, leave without pay, jury duty, bereavement, etc.) will be requested and sent to HR on a 340 form.

Hourly Employees – Current Pay Period Leave Requests

Hourly employees will complete a timesheet and manually add vacation leave taken during a current active pay period. The supervisor should request the employee submit a leave request through self-service for approval, as this approval will prompt the system to automatically deduct the requested leave from the employee’s leave balances. Please note, approved leaves in the current active pay period will not auto populate on the employee’s timesheet.

Printed policies and procedures are considered uncontrolled and for reference only.

Hourly Employees – Future-dated Pay Period Leave Requests

If the leave request is future-dated and not within the current time entry period, the employee will submit the request in self-service and the supervisor will need to approve or reject the request. The supervisor will receive an email notification to respond to a request. Supervisors will need to monitor the leave balance when they approve a request. Self-service will allow the employee to go negative in their balance. If the request is future-dated and the employee will have accrued the time off by the date requested, the supervisor should wait to approve until the leave balance is sufficient. Once the supervisor approves the request, it will automatically populate to the employee's timesheet for the applicable pay period and send notification to the employee. If the employee's plans change or they need to change a request, the supervisor will need to go into the leave portal and reject the originally approved request.

Salaried Employees

When a salaried employee requests vacation leave, the supervisor will get an email and will need to approve or reject the request. Once the request is approved, the requested time off will immediately be deducted from the employees' leave balance, even if the time is future-dated. If the employee's plans change or they need to change their request, the supervisor will need to go back into the leave portal and reject the originally approved request.

Exempt salaried employees are required to report leave (sick, vacation, leave with pay, leave without pay, jury duty, bereavement) of 4 or more hours. This means if an employee is absent for fewer than 4 hours on one day, leave should not be requested in self-service. A supervisor may still require this time off to be communicated to them, but that time will not be deducted from the employee's leave balance. Exempt employees who work at least 4 hours in one day will be paid for the entire 8-hour workday. However, habitual leaves of less than 4 hours may lead to supervisor attendance review. The supervisor will need to monitor employee's leaves for the possibility of abuse. This would be a behavior/performance issue that will need to be addressed with the employee. If patterns of attendance suggest a salaried employee is abusing the "less-than-four-hour" element of the leave process, the employee will be subject to counseling and/or corrective action. A supervisor may deny a request for time off even when leave is available or a request for unpaid leave.

Payout Upon Termination of Full-time Employment

Employees leaving all vacation-eligible positions with the college will receive a payout of any unused and available vacation leave in their bank (up to the maximum accrual level), with the first available payroll run after the effective date of the termination, provided they have completed ninety (90) days of service in the vacation-eligible position.

Employees involuntarily terminated by the College will receive payment for any unused accrued vacation leave within six (6) calendar days from the date of employment termination, provided they have completed ninety (90) days of service in the vacation-eligible position.

Vacation payouts are subject to deduction for any debts owed to Amarillo College.

Employees returning to vacation-eligible positions will start at the zero (0) year accrual level.

Employee and Supervisor Responsibility

Employees are responsible for timely requests and notification of the need for vacation leave, and are responsible for monitoring their vacation leave balance.

Supervisors are responsible for monitoring employee attendance and enforcing this policy.

Printed policies and procedures are considered uncontrolled and for reference only.

Board Policy Manual Reference: DEC

Employees are eligible to use accrued sick leave immediately.

Accrual and Carryover

Full-time classified and administrative employees accrue 3.7 hours biweekly (8 hours monthly) up to a maximum of 960 hours. Full-time faculty accrue sick leave according to the length of their yearly assignment and may accrue up to a maximum of 960 hours. Accrued hours below the maximum carry over from one fiscal year to the next.

Assignment Length	Biweekly Sick Leave Accrual	Monthly Sick Leave Accrual	Maximum Sick Leave Balance
9-Month	2.77 hours	6.00 hours	960 hours
10-Month	3.02 hours	6.66 hours	960 hours
11-Month	3.39 hours	7.34 hours	960 hours
12-Month	3.70 hours	8.00 hours	960 hours

Eligible Sick Leave Situations

Employees may use sick leave for the following reasons:

1. Illness of the employee;
2. Healthcare appointments which cannot be scheduled outside working hours; or,
3. Illness of an employee's immediate family member (spouse, child, mother, father, or a family member who is dependent upon the employee as a primary source of financial support).

Employees absent for three or more consecutive work days should seek Family and Medical Leave (FMLA).

Notification

To be eligible for sick leave, employees must:

1. Promptly report the reason for the absence to their supervisor, according to department notification procedures;
2. Keep the supervisor informed each day if the absence extends beyond one day; and,

Printed policies and procedures are considered uncontrolled and for reference only.

Requesting/Reporting Sick Leave

Employees will submit their requests for sick leave in the AC Connect Self-Service section, under “Employee Overview > Leave > Request Leave.” Supervisors will be notified of the new request and should promptly accept or reject the request for sick leave within the AC Connect Self-Service section.

Once this is completed, the employee will receive an emailed confirmation with details of the approval or rejection. Any leaves outside of sick or vacation (leave with pay, leave without pay, jury duty, bereavement, etc.) will be requested and sent to HR on a 340 form.

Hourly Employees – Current Pay Period Leave Requests

Hourly employees will complete a timesheet and manually add sick leave taken during a current active pay period. The supervisor should request the employee to submit a sick leave request through self-service for approval, as this approval will prompt the system to automatically deduct the requested leave from the employee’s leave balances. Please note, approved leaves in the current active pay period will not auto populate on the employee’s timesheet.

Hourly Employees – Future-dated Pay Period Leave Requests

If the sick leave request is future-dated, the employee will submit the request in self-service and the supervisor will need to approve or reject the request. The supervisor will receive an email notification to respond to a request. Supervisors will need to monitor the leave balance when they approve a request. Self-service will allow the employee to go negative in their balance. If the request is future-dated and the employee will have accrued the time off by the date requested, the supervisor should wait to approve until the balance is sufficient. Once the supervisor approves the request, it will automatically populate to the employee’s timesheet for the applicable pay period and send notification to the employee. If the employee’s plans change or they need to change a request, the supervisor will need to go into the leave portal and reject the originally approved request.

Salaried Employees

When a salaried employee requests sick leave, the supervisor will get an email and will need to approve or reject the request. Once the request is approved, the requested time off will immediately be deducted from the employees’ leave balance, even if the time is future-dated. If the employee’s plans change or they need to change their request, the supervisor will need to go back into the leave portal and reject the originally approved request.

Exempt salaried employees are required to report leave (sick, vacation, leave with pay, leave without pay, jury duty, bereavement) of 4 or more hours. This means if an employee is absent for fewer than 4 hours on one day, leave should not be requested in self-service. A supervisor may still require this time off to be communicated to them, but that time will not be deducted from the employee’s leave balance. Exempt employees who work at least 4 hours in one day will be paid for the entire 8-hour workday. However, habitual leaves of less than 4 hours may lead to supervisor attendance review. The supervisor will need to monitor employee’s leaves for the possibility of abuse. This would be a behavior/performance issue that will need to be addressed with the employee. If patterns of attendance suggest a salaried employee is abusing the “less-than-four-hour” element of the leave process, the employee will be subject to counseling and/or corrective action. A supervisor may deny a request for time off even when leave is available or a request for unpaid leave.

Faculty

When a faculty member requests sick leave, the employee will submit the request in self-service and the supervisor will need to approve or reject the request. A faculty member should request 6 hours for a full day off from work. All other procedures for salaried employees are applicable to faculty members.

Sick Leave Pool

Employees may donate sick leave hours to the Amarillo College Paid Sick Leave Pool, which assists eligible employees for time missed from work due to a serious health condition, or for the birth of a child.

Printed policies and procedures are considered uncontrolled and for reference only.

In most cases, the length of federal military service cannot exceed five years.

Continuation of Health Insurance

Employees who perform service in the uniformed services may elect to continue their health plan coverage at their own cost for a period not to exceed 24 months. Employees should contact Human Resources for details on eligibility, requirements, and limitations.

5.8 Leave Without Pay

Effective: March 2023

Certain approved absences without pay preserve the continuation of employment status and permit retention of College benefits.

Short Term

Specific approved short-term absences of five days or less per year may be authorized by the supervisor for employee personal reasons provided that acceptable arrangements can be made in order to take care of the employee's work load. Timely notification of short-term leave without pay needs to be given to the Human Resources office in order to make sure that the employee's payroll timesheet is appropriately adjusted. This should be completed on a 340 form and sent to Human Resources before the last day of the pay period.

Long Term

Any leave without pay longer than five working days requires approval from the employee's immediate supervisor, department head and applicable Vice President. This should be completed on a 340 form and sent to Human Resources before the last day of the pay period.

5.9 Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) – General Provisions

Effective: March 2023

Revised: June 2023

Board Policy Manual Reference: CKD, DEC series

Leave Entitlements

Eligible employees who work for Amarillo College can take up to 12 weeks of unpaid, job-protected leave in a 12-month period for the following reasons:

- The birth of a child or placement of a child for adoption or foster care;
- To bond with a child (leave must be taken within 1 year of the child's birth or placement);
- To care for the employee's spouse, child, or parent who has a qualifying serious health condition;
- For the employee's own qualifying serious health condition that makes the employee unable to perform the employee's job;
- For qualifying exigencies related to the foreign deployment of a military member who is the employee's spouse, child, or parent.

An eligible employee who is a covered servicemember's spouse, child, parent, or next of kin may also take up to 26 weeks of FMLA leave in a single 12-month period to care for the servicemember with a serious injury or illness.

In certain circumstances, an employee does not need to use leave in one block. When it is medically necessary or otherwise permitted, employees may take leave intermittently or on a reduced schedule.

Amarillo College requires employees to use accrued paid leave while taking FMLA leave. When an employee substitutes accrued paid leave for FMLA leave, the employee must comply with the employer's normal paid leave policies.

Benefits and Protections

While employees are on FMLA leave, Amarillo College will continue health insurance coverage as if the employees were not on leave.

Upon return from FMLA leave, most employees will be restored to the same job or one nearly identical to it with equivalent pay, benefits, and other employment terms and conditions.

Amarillo College shall not interfere with an individual's FMLA rights or retaliate against someone for using or trying to use FMLA leave, opposing any practice made unlawful by the FMLA, or being involved in any proceeding under or related to the FMLA.

Printed policies and procedures are considered uncontrolled and for reference only.

Eligibility Requirements

An employee who works for Amarillo College must meet criteria in order to be eligible for FMLA leave. The employee must:

- Have worked for Amarillo College for at least 12 months, and
- Have at least 1,250 hours of service in the 12 months before taking leave.

Requesting Leave

Generally, employees must give 30-days' advance notice of the need for FMLA leave. If it is not possible to give 30-days' notice, an employee must notify Amarillo College Human Resources as soon as possible.

Employees must provide enough information to Amarillo College so it can determine if the leave qualifies for FMLA protection.

Sufficient information could include informing Amarillo College Human Resources that the employee is or will be unable to perform his or her job functions, that a family member cannot perform daily activities, or that hospitalization or continuing medical treatment is necessary. Employees must inform Amarillo College if the need for leave is for a reason for which FMLA leave was previously taken or certified.

Amarillo College requires certification and periodic recertification supporting the need for leave. If Amarillo College determines that the certification is incomplete, it will provide a written notice indicating what additional information is required.

Employer Responsibilities

Once Amarillo College becomes aware that an employee's need for leave is for a reason that may qualify under the FMLA, Amarillo College will notify the employee if he or she is eligible for FMLA leave and, if eligible, will also provide a notice of rights and responsibilities under the FMLA. If the employee is not eligible, Amarillo College will provide a reason for ineligibility.

Amarillo College will notify its employees if leave will be designated as FMLA leave, and if so, how much leave will be designated as FMLA leave.

Enforcement

Employees may file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Labor, Wage and Hour Division, or may bring a private lawsuit against Amarillo College.

The FMLA does not affect any federal or state law prohibiting discrimination or supersede any state or local law or collective bargaining agreement that provides greater family or medical leave rights.

Procedures for Implementing Family and Medical Leave Provisions

Eligible employees can take up to 12 weeks of unpaid leave in the 12-month period measured backward from the date an employee uses FMLA.

Use of Paid Leave. FMLA runs concurrently with accrued paid leave, and absences due to a work-related illness or injury. The college will designate the leave as FMLA, if applicable, and notify the employee that accumulated leave will run concurrently.

Combined Leave for Spouses. Spouses who are employed by the college are limited to a combined total of 12 weeks of FMLA to care for a parent with a serious health condition; or for the birth, adoption, or foster placement of a child. Military caregiver leave for spouses is limited to a combined total of 26 weeks.

Intermittent Leave. When medically necessary or in the case of a qualifying exigency, an employee may take leave intermittently or on a reduced schedule. The college does not permit the use of intermittent or reduced-schedule leave for the care of a newborn child or for adoption or placement of a child with the employee.

Fitness for Duty. An employee that takes FMLA due to the employee's own serious health condition shall provide, before resuming work, a fitness-for-duty certification from the health care provider. When leave is taken for the employee's own serious health condition, the certification must address the employee's ability to perform essential job functions. The college shall provide a list of essential job functions (e.g., job description) to the employee with the FMLA designation notice to share with the health care provider. Fitness for duty is not required when an employee returns to work following leave to care for a family member with a serious health condition; to care for a child following birth, adoption, or foster care placement; or for qualifying exigency leave.

Reinstatement. On return from FMLA leave, an employee is entitled to be returned to the same position the employee held when leave began, or to an equivalent position with equivalent benefits, pay, and other terms and conditions of employment. An employee is entitled to reinstatement even if the employee has been replaced or his or her position has been restructured to accommodate the employee's absence. However, an employee has no greater right to reinstatement or to other benefits and conditions of employment than if the employee had been continuously employed during the FMLA leave period.

Failure to Return. If, at the expiration of FMLA, the employee is able to return to work but chooses not to do so, the college may require the employee to reimburse the college's share of insurance premiums paid during any portion of FMLA when the employee was on unpaid leave. If the employee fails to return to work for a reason beyond the employee's control, such as a continuing personal or family serious health condition or a spouse being unexpectedly transferred more than 75 miles from the college, the college may not require the employee to reimburse the college's share of premiums paid.

College Contact. Employees that require FMLA or have questions should contact Employee Health for details on eligibility, requirements, and limitations.

As required by federal regulations the college provides the notice “Employee Rights and Responsibilities Under the Family and Medical Leave Act” on the next page.

Printed policies and procedures are considered uncontrolled and for reference only.

Your Employee Rights Under the Family and Medical Leave Act

What is FMLA leave?

The Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) is a federal law that provides eligible employees with job-protected leave for qualifying family and medical reasons. The U.S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour Division (WHD) enforces the FMLA for most employees.

Eligible employees can take up to 12 workweeks of FMLA leave in a 12-month period for:

- The birth, adoption or foster placement of a child with you,
- Your serious mental or physical health condition that makes you unable to work,
- To care for your spouse, child or parent with a serious mental or physical health condition, and
- Certain qualifying reasons related to the foreign deployment of your spouse, child or parent who is a military servicemember.

An eligible employee who is the spouse, child, parent or next of kin of a covered servicemember with a serious injury or illness may take up to 26 workweeks of FMLA leave in a single 12-month period to care for the servicemember.

You have the right to use FMLA leave in one block of time. When it is medically necessary or otherwise permitted, you may take FMLA leave intermittently in separate blocks of time, or on a reduced schedule by working less hours each day or week. Read Fact Sheet #28M(c) for more information.

FMLA leave is not paid leave, but you may choose, or be required by your employer, to use any employer-provided paid leave if your employer's paid leave policy covers the reason for which you need FMLA leave.

Am I eligible to take FMLA leave?

You are an eligible employee if all of the following apply:

- You work for a covered employer,
- You have worked for your employer at least 12 months,
- You have at least 1,250 hours of service for your employer during the 12 months before your leave, and
- Your employer has at least 50 employees within 75 miles of your work location.

Airline flight crew employees have different "hours of service" requirements.

You work for a covered employer if one of the following applies:

- You work for a private employer that had at least 50 employees during at least 20 workweeks in the current or previous calendar year,
- You work for an elementary or public or private secondary school, or
- You work for a public agency, such as a local, state or federal government agency. Most federal employees are covered by Title II of the FMLA, administered by the Office of Personnel Management.

How do I request FMLA leave?

Generally, to request FMLA leave you must:

- Follow your employer's normal policies for requesting leave,
- Give notice at least 30 days before your need for FMLA leave, or
- If advance notice is not possible, give notice as soon as possible.

You do not have to share a medical diagnosis but must provide enough information to your employer so they can determine whether the leave qualifies for FMLA protection. You must also inform your employer if FMLA leave was previously taken or approved for the same reason when requesting additional leave.

Your employer may request certification from a health care provider to verify medical leave and may request certification of a qualifying exigency.

The FMLA does not affect any federal or state law prohibiting discrimination or supersede any state or local law or collective bargaining agreement that provides greater family or medical leave rights.

State employees may be subject to certain limitations in pursuit of direct lawsuits regarding leave for their own serious health conditions. Most federal and certain congressional employees are also covered by the law but are subject to the jurisdiction of the U.S. Office of Personnel Management or Congress.

What does my employer need to do?

If you are eligible for FMLA leave, your employer must:

- Allow you to take job-protected time off work for a qualifying reason,
- Continue your group health plan coverage while you are on leave on the same basis as if you had not taken leave, and
- Allow you to return to the same job, or a virtually identical job with the same pay, benefits and other working conditions, including shift and location, at the end of your leave.

Your employer cannot interfere with your FMLA rights or threaten or punish you for exercising your rights under the law. For example, your employer cannot retaliate against you for requesting FMLA leave or cooperating with a WHD investigation.

After becoming aware that your need for leave is for a reason that may qualify under the FMLA, your employer must confirm whether you are eligible or not eligible for FMLA leave. If your employer determines that you are eligible, your employer must notify you in writing:

- About your FMLA rights and responsibilities, and
- How much of your requested leave, if any, will be FMLA-protected leave.

Where can I find more information?

Call 1-866-487-9243 or visit dol.gov/fmla to learn more.

If you believe your rights under the FMLA have been violated, you may file a complaint with WHD or file a private lawsuit against your employer in court. Scan the QR code to learn about our WHD complaint process.

6.1 Attendance and Punctuality

Effective: March 2023

Revised: February 2024

General Information

Consistent and punctual attendance at work is an essential requirement of all employment at Amarillo College. Any tardiness or unplanned absence causes challenges for fellow employees and supervisors. Employees of Amarillo College are expected to report to work as scheduled, on time and prepared to start working.

All unplanned absences, even if excused, cause disruption to the business of the College and will be considered in the corrective action or termination decision making process.

This procedure does not apply to absences covered by the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) or leave provided as a reasonable accommodation under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA).

Absenteeism

“Absence” is defined as the failure of an employee to report for work when he or she is scheduled and expected to work. As defined by this procedure, an absence is unplanned when the employee did not request the time away from work at least 24 hours in advance.

An absence should be classified as either excused or unexcused:

Excused absences: In the event of an emergency or illness, the employee should contact his or her supervisor no later than the scheduled starting time of the employee’s work shift. If the employee is unable to call, he or she must have someone make the notification for them. For multiple-day absences with no definitive return date, employees are responsible for contacting their supervisor daily to notify of the continued need for absence from work. Department supervisors, in consultation with HR, may set more stringent deadlines for notification of unplanned absences in order to minimize disruption to departmental operations.

Unexcused absences: Absences for which the employee does not provide proper notice and/or required documentation will be considered unexcused. Absences for reasons which the supervisor deems unacceptable may be considered unexcused (i.e. calling in sick on a shift for which vacation leave was previously declined, failure to provide a doctor’s note, etc.). Unexcused absences constitute one (1) “occurrence” for purposes of tracking and corrective action.

Notification requirements: Department supervisors are responsible for informing employees of the acceptable methods by which employees may notify supervisors of unplanned absence from work.

Documentation requirements: Department supervisors, in consultation with HR, may set more stringent requirements for absence documentation, such as requiring a doctor’s note upon returning from an absence related to illness. Failure of an employee to provide requested documentation may constitute an unexcused absence.

Usage of sick and vacation leave: Employees who accrue sick leave and vacation leave must use their available leave for absences.

Printed policies and procedures are considered uncontrolled. Always consult www.actx.edu/hr for the official college policies and procedures.

Note about sick leave: Unlike vacation leave, sick leave is not considered an earned benefit and is not “owned” by the employee in the same way as vacation leave. Upon departure from a sick leave-eligible position, employees are not paid out for sick leave balances. Sick leave is not intended to be used up each year. Sick leave is accrued as a benefit to the employee who experiences illness or whose dependent family member experiences illness requiring the employee to take time off work. Employees are not entitled to use sick leave without the permission of their supervisor.

Tardiness and Early Departures

Employees are expected to report to work and return from breaks on time. If an employee cannot report to work as scheduled, he or she must notify the supervisor as early as possible. Department supervisors may set reasonable time limits for considering an employee tardy and requiring employee communication of tardiness, based on departmental needs and flexibility.

An instance of tardiness is considered one-half (0.5) “occurrence point” for purposes of tracking and corrective action.

No Call/No Show – Job Abandonment

Any employee who fails to report to work for two consecutively scheduled days without notifying his or her supervisor will be considered to have abandoned the job and voluntarily terminated the employment relationship. Every instance of no call/no show counts as four (4) “occurrence points” for purposes of tracking and corrective action.

Corrective Action

An employee who has more than two (2) “occurrence points” according to this procedure during the first three months of employment may be discharged.

Excessive absenteeism, except those absences determined to be protected by the Family and Medical Leave Act, Pregnancy Discrimination Act, or any other applicable federal law, may result in corrective action. As proof of the applicability of such law, the employee is to provide appropriate certification or documentation in a timely manner.

Patterns of absence or tardiness, such as consistently being absent after a scheduled vacation day or holiday, calling in every Monday or Friday, calling in on days for which vacation requests were denied etc. may result in corrective action regardless of the number of occurrence points. The following attendance guidelines may apply for a rolling 12-month period.

Printed policies and procedures are considered uncontrolled. Always consult www.actx.edu/hr for the official college policies and procedures.

Occurrence Point Chart
Activity Type	# of Points Assigned
No Call/No Show	4
Unexcused Absence	1
Tardy	0.5

# of Occurrence Points Incurred in a rolling 12-month period	Corrective/Disciplinary Action
4	Notation/Education/Record of Conversation

7	Final Written Warning
8	Discharge

Supervisor Responsibility

Supervisors are responsible for using good judgment and consideration in documenting occurrences of absences and tardiness. Supervisors should address excessive absenteeism, even if excused, in a timely manner. These attendance and punctuality criteria apply to employees working on campus as well as employees teleworking.

While there is flexibility based on department needs, supervisors are expected to hold employees consistently accountable to the attendance standards. Supervisors whose department operations require more structure or stringent enforcement of attendance and punctuality may consult with Human Resources for assistance in crafting departmental policies which are harmonious with this college policy.

Printed policies and procedures are considered uncontrolled. Always consult www.actx.edu/hr for the official college policies and procedures.

The College holds all employees to the ethical standards expressed in the Texas Community College Teachers Association Code of Professional Ethics, which is reprinted below:

The Professional Educator shall not support a colleague whose persistently unethical conduct or professional incompetence has been demonstrated through due process.

The Professional Educator shall accept all rights and responsibilities of citizenship, always avoiding use of the privileges of his or her public position for private or partisan advantage.

In this Code the term "colleague" refers to all persons employed by colleges in the educational enterprise.*

6.3 Conflict of Interest

Effective: March 2023

Board Policy Manual Reference: CAA, DBD, DBF

Employees are required to disclose in writing to the College any situation that creates a potential conflict of interest with proper discharge of assigned duties and responsibilities or creates a potential conflict of interest with the best interests of the College. This includes the following:

- A personal financial interest
- A business interest
- Any other obligation or relationship
- Outside employment

Employees should contact their supervisor and the referenced board policies for additional information.

6.4 Corrective Action and Discipline

Effective: March 2023

General Information

The employment relationship between most employees and Amarillo College is on an at-will basis. However, a supervisor is encouraged to utilize corrective action short of termination to resolve a problem situation. Corrective action allows for employees to be informed of changes required for their attendance, performance or conduct, and to be provided with opportunities to correct those situations.

Each instance of misconduct, poor performance, illegal activity, disrupting others' ability to work, excessive absenteeism or any other problems as determined by the supervisor will be evaluated individually to determine what, if any, corrective action is warranted and appropriate.

Amarillo College's utilization of corrective action is not a relinquishment of the at-will employment relationship and does not create an employment contract. Supervisors of both faculty and non-faculty employees should apply corrective action as close to the date of the misconduct or performance problem occurrence as possible. Employees may be subject to termination during the first six (6) months of employment without corrective action.

Procedures

In most circumstances, the following steps of corrective action should be taken to address performance, conduct and attendance problems:

- 1. Notation and Education: The supervisor responsible for the employee should make the employee aware of the specific areas of conduct, performance or attendance which are not meeting expectations or which are causing a disruption to the learning environment for students or the working environment for other AC employees and faculty. The notation and education meeting, including any comments or responses by the employee, should be documented.
Recommended supervisor action: Follow up the notation/education meeting with the employee by emailing him/her a summary of the conversation and the action steps agreed upon. Ask the employee to reply with any corrections to the summary or with the employee's agreement.
- 2. Verbal Warning: Should conduct, performance or attendance continue to be unsatisfactory, the supervisor should meet with the employee to discuss the prior conversations and to elaborate on the specific instances since the prior conversation in which the employee's conduct, performance or attendance has been unsatisfactory. The verbal warning should be documented and signed by both the employee and the supervisor. The warning, along with any comments or responses by the employee, should be forwarded to the employee's official personnel file in Human Resources.
- 3. Written Warning: Should conduct, performance or attendance continue to be unsatisfactory, the supervisor should discuss the concerns with Human Resources, and then meet with the employee to discuss the prior conversations and to provide the employee with specific examples of continued unsatisfactory results. The written warning is to be considered a serious level of corrective action and both parties should sign the document. The written warning, along with any comments or responses by the employee, should be forwarded to Human Resources for the employee's official personnel file.
Recommended supervisor action: At this stage of corrective action, have another supervisor level employee present as a witness to the conversation.
- 4. Termination: When the prior corrective action efforts fail to resolve the conduct, performance or attendance issues, the supervisor may recommend termination of employment. Supervisors must notify Human Resources prior to issuing any involuntary termination action for any Amarillo College employee (see procedure 7.3 Involuntary Termination of Employment).

Performance and Conduct Issues Subject to Immediate Termination of Employment

Behavior that is illegal is not subject to corrective action and may result in immediate termination of employment. Such behavior may be reported to local law enforcement authorities and must be reported to Human Resources prior to any termination action.

Similarly, theft; substance abuse; intoxication; fighting and other acts of violence; sleeping while on duty; falsification of records; unauthorized use of college equipment, tools, machines, funds, etc. and insubordination at work are subject to corrective action and may be grounds for immediate termination. Supervisors are required to confer with Human Resources if any of these actions or similar actions occur, prior to any termination action.

The College reserves the right in any situation to take corrective action or not, and in any order as appropriate.

Printed policies and procedures are considered uncontrolled and for reference only.

Employees shall not engage in discrimination, harassment, or retaliation on the basis of sex, including sexual harassment, sexual assault and other sexual violence, dating violence, domestic violence, or stalking against other employees, prospective employees, former employees, unpaid interns, or students. Employees also may not engage in discrimination, harassment, or retaliation against other persons including board members, vendors, contractors, volunteers, or parents. A substantiated charge of harassment will result in disciplinary action. Processes for reporting prohibited conduct are described below.

Other forms of prohibited discrimination, harassment, and retaliation are addressed in procedure 6.6 Discrimination, Harassment, and Retaliation on the Basis of Other Protected Characteristics.

Employees Who Witness Sex Discrimination, Sexual Harassment, Sexual Assault, Dating Violence, Domestic Violence, or Stalking

All employees who witness or receive information reasonably believed to constitute prohibited discrimination on the basis of sex, including sexual harassment, sexual assault or other sexual violence, dating violence, domestic violence, or stalking against or by another employee or student, regardless of where or when the incident occurred, must promptly report the incidents to the college's Title IX coordinator: Tammy Coats, Director of Human Resources, Washington Street Campus, Student Services Center, Suite 262, 806-371-5042. Alternatively, employees may submit their report on the college's Title IX website reporting form. An electronic report may be submitted anonymously.

In addition to the report to the Title IX coordinator, a report against the College president or chancellor must also be made directly to the board of trustees.

An employee who knows of or suspects child abuse must also report the employee's knowledge or suspicion to the appropriate authorities, as required by law. See procedure 6.14 Reporting Suspected Child Abuse for additional information.

Exceptions to the Reporting Requirements

An employee is not required to report information they received as a result of a disclosure made at a college sponsored public awareness event unless the person has the authority to institute corrective measures on behalf of the College.

Absent the victim's consent, or unless required by law, a confidential employee, described below, may only disclose the type of incident reported and may not disclose information that would violate a victim's expectation of privacy.

An employee is not required to report an incident the employee learned of during the course of the college's review or processing of an incident report or that has been confirmed to have been previously reported.

Printed policies and procedures are considered uncontrolled and for reference only.

Victims of Sex Discrimination, Sexual Harassment, Sexual Assault, Dating Violence, Domestic Violence, or Stalking

An employee who is the victim of discrimination on the basis of sex, including sexual harassment, sexual assault or other sexual violence, dating violence, domestic violence, or stalking has the right to report the incident to the College and to receive a prompt and equitable resolution of the report.

Allegations may be reported to the employee's immediate supervisor, to the Title IX coordinator: Cheryl Jones, Vice President of Human Resources, Washington Street Campus, Student Services Center, Suite 260, 806-371-5040, or the College president. The employee may also report electronically through the college's Title IX website reporting form. An electronic report may be submitted anonymously.

Alternatively, the employee may report the incident to a designated confidential employee. A confidential employee is a person who holds a professional license requiring confidentiality, such as a counselor or medical provider, who is supervised by such a person, or who is designated as a confidential employee.

An employee is not required to report the incident to the person alleged to have committed it.

An employee who is the victim of a crime has the right to choose whether to report the crime to law enforcement, to be assisted by the College in reporting the crime to law enforcement, or to decline to report the crime to law enforcement.

It is important that a victim of prohibited discrimination on the basis of sex, including sexual harassment, sexual assault or other sexual violence, dating violence, domestic violence, or stalking, go to a hospital for treatment and preservation of evidence, if applicable, as soon as practicable after the incident.

Retaliation

The College prohibits retaliation against an employee for the purpose of interfering with a right or privilege under policies DIAA and FFDA; who, in good faith, makes a report or a complaint, serves as a witness, or otherwise participates or refuses to participate in an investigation, proceeding, or hearing regarding an allegation of discrimination on the basis of sex, including sexual harassment, sexual assault or other sexual violence, dating violence, domestic violence, or stalking. This prohibition does not apply to the discipline of an employee who committed, or assists in the commission, of the misconduct.

False Report or Failure to Report

An employee commits an offense if the employee makes a false report or knowingly fails to report such incidents with the intent to harm, deceive, or conceal the incidents. An employee found by the College to have committed one of these offenses will be terminated.

Policies and Procedures

Information on the colleges' policy, procedures, and related materials is available on the Title IX website.

Printed policies and procedures are considered uncontrolled and for reference only.

6.6 Discrimination, Harassment and Retaliation on the Basis of Other Protected Characteristics

Effective: March 2023

Board Policy Manual Reference: DAA, DAAA, DH, DHB, DIAB, FA, FFDB

General Information

In addition to the prohibition on discrimination, harassment, and retaliation on the basis of sex addressed in procedure 6.5 Discrimination, Harassment, and Retaliation on the Basis of Sex, employees shall not engage in discrimination, harassment, or retaliation on the basis of other legally protected characteristics against other employees, prospective employees, former employees, unpaid interns, or students. Employees also may not engage in prohibited discrimination, harassment, or retaliation against other persons including board members, vendors, contractors, volunteers, or parents. A substantiated charge will result in disciplinary action. Processes for reporting prohibited conduct are described below.

Report of Actions Targeting Employees

An employee who believes the employee or another employee has been discriminated or retaliated against or harassed on the basis of a legally protected characteristic other than sex is encouraged to promptly report such incidents to the employee's supervisor or the College president, or Human Resources. Employees who suspect a student may have experienced discrimination, harassment, or retaliation on the basis of a protected characteristic other than sex are obligated to report their concerns to an appropriate College official such as their director, dean or Cabinet member. All allegations will promptly be investigated. An employee who knows of or suspects child abuse must also report the employee's knowledge or suspicion to the appropriate authorities, as required by law. See procedure 6.14 Reporting Suspected Child Abuse for additional information.

Administrative employees shall demonstrate continued professional competence, professional responsibility, and the ability to perform the physical requirements of the position. Administrators shall exhibit personal conduct which does not adversely affect the performance of duties or the meeting of responsibilities to Amarillo College, to students, or to other College employees. Failure to meet these requirements in a suitable manner or refusal to comply with written College policies, procedures, and administrative directives will be adequate cause for termination of employment.

All employees are entitled to timely, open and transparent communication from their supervisors regarding deficiencies in performance, conduct or attendance. Supervisors should utilize the steps found in procedure 6.4 Corrective Action and Discipline as appropriate when handling performance, conduct or attendance issues. If the problems lead to a decision to terminate the employment of an administrator, or if a severe single incident occurs justifying in termination of employment, administrators may refer to the following due process procedures.

Procedure

If efforts to correct performance, conduct or attendance using the procedures found in 6.4 Corrective Action and Discipline are unsuccessful, an administrator's supervisor may, through consultation with Human Resources, recommend termination of employment. The administrator will be placed in a suspension status with pay until the due process time periods have elapsed. The supervisor will provide a written document to the administrator describing the reason(s) for termination of employment.

1. The administrator has five (5) business days from the date of the supervisor's written notice to provide a written response to the dismissal decision. The written appeal should be addressed to the Vice President of Human Resources, who will distribute to the appropriate supervisor, Cabinet member and President. In the administrator's written response to the dismissal decision, they may request a hearing before an administrative hearing committee.
2. If the administrator does not respond in writing the termination of employment will be effective as of the sixth (6th) business day following being notified of the reasons for dismissal.
3. Within fifteen (15) business days of the VPHR's receipt of the written hearing request, the College will hold a hearing at which the administrator may answer the dismissal charges. Both the administrator and the supervisor will nominate three other administrative employees for the administrative hearing committee. Employees who report to the same Cabinet member as the appealing administrator are not eligible to serve on the hearing committee. The College President will select the final three members of the hearing committee, including at least one from each of the nominated lists. The hearing will be before the supervisors involved and the administrative hearing committee. At such hearing any party may call before it any involved individual in order to obtain additional information. All involved parties will be entitled to present pertinent evidence and reasonable argument.
4. The committee will make a recommendation in writing to the administrator, the supervisor, and the College President within five (5) business days of the hearing.

Printed policies and procedures are considered uncontrolled and for reference only.

5. Within ten (10) business days of receiving the committee's recommendation, the College President will issue a written decision to retain or dismiss the administrator.
6. If the President's decision is to terminate the employment of the administrator, the administrator has five (5) business days to notify the President in writing of the administrator's desire for a hearing before the AC Board of Regents.
7. After the President receives the written request for a hearing before the Board, the President will present the committee's report, with all related documents and the President's decision, to the Board of Regents at its next regularly scheduled meeting. The Board of Regents will set a date and place for a full hearing of the matter. The administrator will be advised in writing of the time and place for the hearing at least ten (10) business days prior to the hearing. At the hearing the Board may call any involved individual in order to obtain additional information. All interested parties will be entitled to present relevant witnesses, relevant evidence and reasonable argument. If the administrator is to be confronted with other witnesses or evidence than disclosed either prior to or during the administrative committee hearing, notice of the new evidence will be given in writing to the administrator at least six (6) business days before the Board hearing. The Board of Regents will review the case in full and return its decision. The final decision of the Board will be provided in writing to the administrator involved, the President, the administrative committee and the supervisor.
8. Any party involved in the due process proceedings may be represented by counsel of their own choosing at their own expense. Consistent with time limitations stated in this procedure, the proceedings will be conducted as swiftly as possible.
9. At any stage during the due process period, the administrator may request the due process be ceased and may submit their resignation of employment, effective immediately. Pay will cease as of the date the resignation is received.
10. To the extent possible under rule of law, all proceedings in connection with suspension or termination shall be kept strictly confidential unless such confidentiality is waived by the administrator. In compliance with Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, discrimination based on pregnancy, childbirth, or related conditions is prohibited. This policy ensures that pregnant and parenting students have equal access to educational opportunities and receive reasonable accommodations to support their academic success and well-being. It applies to all pregnant and parenting students enrolled at Amarillo College.

Accommodations

Pregnant and parenting students may request reasonable accommodations, which may include but are not limited to:

- Excused Absences: Absences due to pregnancy, childbirth, or related medical conditions will be excused. Students will be allowed to make up any missed work.
- Extensions: Extensions on assignments and exams missed due to pregnancy or parenting responsibilities.

9.1 Faculty Recruitment and Selection

Effective: March 2023

The purpose of Amarillo College employee recruitment practices is to create robust and diversified pools of qualified applicants.

The following hiring process establishes the guidelines and workflow approval for all grant- and institutionally funded full-time faculty positions.

Hiring Manager Responsibilities

1. When a full-time faculty position is vacated or an additional position is requested, the hiring manager will submit a VPAA position request form for Associate Vice President (AVP) and Vice President of Academic Affairs (VPAA) approval.
2. Once the position is approved, meet with the Human Resources Recruitment Specialist to:
 - a. Develop or review the job description. In developing a job description, be thoughtful when determining educational requirements and experience. For faculty, required credentials should only include those written in the Faculty Qualifications and Credentialing Manual. Experience is important; however, we are always hiring for fit, so do write the description to be specific.
 - b. Ensure Human Resources (HR) is aware of any additional posting/advertising resources to which the job posting could be submitted.
 - c. Determine the size of the applicant pool desired and/or the number of days (minimum 14) to advertise the job.
 - d. Ensure HR is aware of any keywords that could be used to attract and screen applicants.
3. Establish a search committee and the roles and responsibilities of the search committee members prior to the job being posted. The committee should be diverse, should include the dean, and should include an additional member from outside the content area. Develop interview questions. Let all interviewees know that the meeting with the departmental/program hiring committee is the first step in a three-step hiring process.
4. Once the job is posted, the hiring manager should complete the following steps:
 - a. Within three (3) business days of posting, forward the names of the search committee members to the HR recruiter.
 - b. Submit interview questions to HR for approval.
 - c. Share the Roles and Responsibilities of Search Committee Members with those selected to the search committee.
 - d. Alert the search committee members that they will be added as team members in the recruitment management system ("RMS") once a screened applicant pool is available. HR will inform the hiring manager when applicants are available.
 - e. Within the RMS, review applicants in the "Phone Screen" or "Qualified" status.
 - f. Schedule interviews with the desired applicants and ensure all committee members complete a candidate evaluation form individually after each interview. Return the evaluations to HR.
5. Once the top one or two candidates are identified by the committee, notify the appropriate AVP. Send the resume/CV and committee notes on the person(s) selected to the AVP. After the AVP interviews the search committee recommendations, the candidate(s) will be forwarded to the VPAA for a final interview. The VPAA has final approval authority before a candidate moves to the offer stage of recruitment.

Printed policies and procedures are considered uncontrolled and for reference only.

6. The VPAA will provide written approval to the HR recruiter, and a faculty salary placement will be drafted by the recruiter.
7. The faculty salary placement will be routed to the hiring manager and upline academic leadership for approval. HR will make the offer to the candidate.
8. Once the candidate has accepted the employment offer, the hiring manager should work with the HR team to facilitate communication and a smooth pre-hire process for the new faculty member.
9. Only with AVP and/or VPAA approval, the new faculty member may be allowed to begin employment prior to the start of the academic year. If the candidate will need the additional time, it should be identified soon after the final interview process so that the earlier start date can be factored in to HR communication with the candidate.
10. The hiring manager is responsible for requesting all necessary network access and equipment for the new faculty member, as well as informing the new faculty member of required orientations and other academic affairs meetings.

Note regarding internal applicants: When a current employee applies for an open faculty position, the hiring manager AND the employee's current manager are responsible for seeking and sharing honest feedback about the employee's strengths, weaknesses and challenges in their current position as well as potential for success or challenges in the new position being sought. Hiring managers are NOT obligated to interview internal applicants. If a hiring manager chooses to interview an internal applicant but subsequently chooses not to hire that applicant, the hiring manager is required to contact the applicant directly, inform the applicant of the decision, and provide constructive feedback as appropriate to the applicant on why they were not selected.

All communication to HR about the recruitment, selection and hiring process (including current status of an approved candidate) should be directed to the recruiting team email: acrecruit@actx.edu.

Printed policies and procedures are considered uncontrolled and for reference only.

9.2 Faculty Salary Placement Criteria

Effective: March 2023

Board Policy Manual Reference: DEA

Amarillo College pays full-time faculty a base salary according to the currently applicable faculty salary schedule.

Initial Placement on the Salary Schedule

The College will analyze the faculty member's academic and work record to determine placement on the salary schedule at the time of initial employment as a full-time faculty member with Amarillo College. The new faculty member will be asked to indicate agreement with that placement by signing the form prepared for that purpose.

Degree Classification

Degree requirements for faculty vary based on the discipline/course field. For salary placement purposes, Amarillo College will consider only degrees earned from a fully accredited college or university (SACS or regional equivalent).

Degrees, experience and certificates must be in the proposed teaching or service area and must meet any accreditation requirement applicable to the program or institution. The appropriate President's Cabinet member must expressly approve exceptions in writing. The base salary will be placed within the salary schedule tier for the highest degree actually completed for the proposed teaching or service area. Certification, licensure, or registration will not count toward placement at a higher degree level than what the applicant actually completed, without the express written approval of the appropriate President's Cabinet member.

ABD (All but dissertation) may be equated to the master's degree plus an additional 60 hours for placement purposes on the faculty salary schedule.

Creditable Years of Experience and Teaching (Step Placement)

Faculty will be credited on the step schedule according to prior experience.

1. College-level teaching: Full-load college level teaching is credited at one credit per one year and a half-credit per half-year. Half-load teaching is credited at one-half credit per full year.
2. Teaching below college level: With approval from the appropriate President's Cabinet member, teaching experience in a school below college level may be credited at one credit per every two full academic years, up to a maximum of five (5) credits.
3. Graduate teaching assistant experience: Experience as a teaching assistant while pursuing a related graduate degree will be credited at one credit per two full years of experience.
4. Directly related work/industry experience: Industry experience related to the discipline/course field will be credited at one credit per one year.
5. Military experience: Military service time is equated as directly related work experience if the duties performed while in the service are related to the educational background of the individual. Military service will be credited at one credit per every two years of service.

Printed policies and procedures are considered uncontrolled and for reference only.

Previous Amarillo College Employment Credit

Faculty reappointed after having left employment with Amarillo College completely may negotiate previous time spent in a probationary or tenure status. However, a minimum of one-year probationary period is mandatory.

Service Credit for Initial Partial Year

During the initial year of full-time faculty employment, a faculty member who teaches a full load for a partial year will be considered to have completed a full year of service, if the assignment is for at least a semester or its equivalent.

9.3 Classifications of Faculty-Status of Employment

Effective: March 2023

Faculty Classifications

1. Full-Time: Appointed by the Board of Regents and normally teaches fifteen (15) semester hours, or performs the equivalent as determined by other assignments per semester. Full-time faculty are further classified as:
 - a. Probationary: Faculty who are serving the probationary period prior to being granted tenure (minimum seven academic years).
 - b. Tenured: Faculty who have been granted tenure by the Board of Regents. Tenure is defined as the confirmation by the Board acting on the recommendation of the College President, to elect a probationary faculty member to a faculty appointment for an indefinite period of time under which appointment such faculty member may be removed only for adequate cause, for the discontinuation of a course of study or financial exigency.
 - c. Temporary: Faculty serving in a non-tenure track position, and hired for a specified period of time.
2. Part-Time (Adjunct): Employed on a temporary basis and teaches less than a full load (defined as fifteen hours per semester). Part-time faculty are paid by the load hour for classes taught, in accordance with the salary schedule for part-time faculty.

Part-time faculty are not eligible for full-time benefits and must maintain teaching loads below the threshold for benefits eligibility. A part-time faculty member who teaches 12 hours in the Fall semester may only teach up to 9 hours the following Spring semester. A part-time faculty member who teaches 12 hours in the Spring semester may only teach up to 6 hours the following summer session. This procedure is important in determining whether a faculty member is paid as a part-time faculty employee or whose load must be prorated as a full-time faculty member. Exceptions can be made by the Vice President of Academic Affairs for those faculty teaching at least half-time but less than full-time.
3. Substitute: Employed on an hourly basis to teach in the place of a faculty member who is absent from class.

Printed policies and procedures are considered uncontrolled and for reference only.

9.4 Faculty Responsibilities and Duties

Effective: March 2023

Teaching

The teaching load for full-time faculty will normally consist of 15 Semester Credit Hours (SCH) or equivalent assignments. Responsibilities for Non-teaching faculty will be individually prescribed. Faculty are assigned by their chair to teach in fields for which they are qualified in keeping with the institution's accreditation. Overload teaching may also be assigned as needed by the department chair (reference the following Overload Assignment heading). Pay for overload teaching will be based on the Part-time Instructor Salary Schedule rates. Full-time faculty who are appointed for less than a 15-SCH assignment per semester shall receive accrued benefits proportional to the percentage of appointment.

Advising

Faculty will serve their students in an advisory capacity based on a divisional or departmental advising plan. This is meant to supplement the formal advising the students receive from the Advising Department.

Committee Assignments

Faculty members are provided the opportunity to serve on instructional committees or subcommittees. Committee assignments will be equitably distributed.

Office Hours

Full-time faculty members must have regular office hours for teaching preparation, student advising, and other incidental tasks required for teaching. Before the start of each course term, full-time faculty are required to post office hours in their online and print syllabi, as well as make them available to their department/program. A mixture of campus and online office hours is acceptable. Departments/programs have the discretion to determine what defines the regular holding of office hours.

Other Duties

In addition to teaching load, full-time faculty have duties in the areas of instruction, professional development, and participation in campus life that are not equated to Semester Credit Hours.

Instructional Duties

Full-time faculty shall:

1. participate in assessment of learning outcomes
2. participate in assessment of teaching effectiveness
3. develop curriculum
4. select instructional materials, such as textbooks learning platforms, and similar
5. prepare syllabi, i.e. determine course content that is consistent with the catalog description
6. provide extra help to students outside of class (not for pay)
7. teach at off-campus instructional sites, in dual credit courses, and by distance learning (as required)
8. participate in recruitment activities, i.e. engaging with prospective students both on and off campus

Printed policies and procedures are considered uncontrolled and for reference only.

Professional Development

Full-time faculty shall:

1. participate in faculty renewal and development programs
2. demonstrate and maintain competence in the use of instructional technology
3. demonstrate commitment to pedagogical growth

Campus Life

Full-time faculty shall:

1. educate themselves regarding College policies
2. stay updated on procedures, general policy, and legislative requirements
3. complete appropriate administrative paperwork in a timely manner
4. attend faculty meetings and general assembly
5. attend commencement

The following subsections concern teaching assignments other than the standard full-time 9-month appointments.

- Overload assignments, which may be given to full-time instructors
- Summer and Mini-term assignments outside of the Fall and Spring semesters
- Extended faculty appointments that do not fit into the semester schedule
- Part-time faculty appointments

Overload Assignments

A full-time faculty load is 15 Semester Credit Hours (SCH). Occasionally, full-time faculty may ask or be asked to teach an overload when necessary to accommodate student enrollment. These guidelines are designed to prevent faculty effectiveness from being diminished by overloads.

An overload is any assigned course that is in addition to the assigned course load that makes up a full-time faculty SCH load. Overloads must be approved according to the guidelines below.

1. The assignment of an overload up to 18 SCH will require approval from the full-time faculty member and the department chair.
2. The assignment of an overload over 18 and up to 21 SCH will require approval from the full-time faculty member, the department chair, and the appropriate dean.
3. The assignment of an overload over 21 SCH will require approval from the full-time faculty member, the department chair, the appropriate dean, and the VPAA Office.
4. When faculty teach a course in another department on an overload basis, the assignment must be approved by their immediate chair. Multiple overloads created by assignments outside the department will follow this stipulation as well as those stated in items 1, 2, and 3 above.

Notice of various levels of approval will be maintained in the VPAA Office for faculty overloads using the FWA Overload Request template housed in Drive.

Printed policies and procedures are considered uncontrolled and for reference only.

Summer and Mini-Term Teaching Load

Summer and Mini-term teaching assignments are made on a rotating, equitable basis among interested, eligible faculty. No one may teach more than 12 Semester Credit Hours (SCH) or equivalent in the summer except in the event that no other qualified person can be found for a summer class in a given discipline. In that case a faculty member may be allowed to teach an additional three hours at an overload stipend.

Extended Faculty Appointment

Faculty may be placed on extended appointment for a specified number of days or months of service beyond the normal nine-month appointment when one or more of the following conditions exist:

1. Supervisory responsibility is required,
2. Teaching is in a program in which the same level of activity and enrollment continues beyond the nine months,
3. Teaching is in a program which is designed as a 12-month program or curriculum, and
4. Employment is in an instructional-related area which requires year-round service. These assignments are subject to annual review.

Those faculty in positions which require extended appointments amounting to a 12-month assignment will follow the same or equal duty days and holidays as the 12-month administrative and classified staff and accrue vacation accordingly.

Those faculty on extended appointments of less than 12 months' duration will follow the same or equal duty days and holidays as the nine-month faculty during the academic year. For the extended appointments, the days and responsibility will be designated. Faculty in this category do not accrue vacation.

Part-time Faculty

A part-time faculty load shall not exceed nine Semester Credit Hours (SCH) per semester for more than one semester in an academic year, without approval of Human Resources.

This policy is important in determining whether a faculty member is paid as a part-time faculty employee or one whose load must be prorated as a full-time faculty member.

The Rank of Practitioner Professor

Practitioner Professor provides a qualified faculty member the full rights and privileges of the rank of Professor based on a significant career of national and/or international reputation that brings prestige to the college. An indicator of the petitioning faculty member's discipline must precede the word professor to delineate this exception from the traditional procedures for advancement in professorial rank (i.e., "Medical Professor," "Scientific Research Professor," "Artist Professor," etc.).

A faculty member must submit a petition to the Rank and Tenure Committee that presents documented evidence that they meet the requirements for the professorial rank of Practitioner Professor. The petitioner must:

- Demonstrate a significant record of national and/or international reputation.
- Have a minimum of 20 years of professional field experience.

Printed policies and procedures are considered uncontrolled and for reference only.

Persons in the Center for Teaching and Learning (CTL), Advising, Library, or similar positions who are officially considered faculty will be provided the opportunity for rank advancement. In circumstances that limit the faculty from fulfilling the qualifications as outlined in this policy (i.e., teaching effectiveness), substitute qualifications may be determined by the Vice-President of Academic Affairs.

Petitioning for Advancement in Rank

Petitioning faculty members are urged to seek guidance from supervisors or other faculty mentors to help them through the Professorial Rank process. A mentoring relationship with an experienced faculty member who has achieved rank at Amarillo College can provide positive guidance, support, and advice for a less experienced faculty member.

A faculty member has the right to public hearings before the Faculty Committee and the Board of Regents and the right to a recording of those hearings at the faculty member's expense. Such requests by a faculty member for a public hearing and/or recording of such hearing shall be made at least three (3) business days prior to such hearing.

9.12 Administrators Returning to or Seeking Faculty Appointments

Effective: March 2023

Board Policy Manual Reference: DDA

Tenured faculty who accept an administrative position will retain their tenured status in the area (discipline or program) in which they were tenured. However, their return to the tenure area will be subject to need (determined by the college President) and availability of funds.

In no case shall another tenured faculty in the same area be released to accommodate the move of an administrator to faculty, even if the person was granted tenure after the person seeking to return to faculty status. A probationary or temporary status faculty member may be released if necessary to accommodate the transfer of the administrator to the area/department where tenure was granted.

If all faculty in the area are tenured and the college has no need for an additional faculty member, the administrator seeking return to faculty appointment has no recourse except to remain in their administrative position or be released from employment at the discretion of the administrative supervisor.

Any faculty member who accepts an administrative position prior to the granting of tenure forfeits any progress made toward tenure.
